Turkey, Greece face conflict over Aegean

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Greece and Turkey were on alert today as a Turkish research vessel steamed toward the Aegean Sea in defiance of Greek threats to stop the ship if it infringed on their oil exploration areas.

Turkey kept secret the course and timetable of the ship, Seismic 1, but it was expected to pass through the Dardanelles Strait into the Aegean, where both nations claim rights to possible mineral riches under the seabed.

Greece bases its claim on the 3,000 Greek islands in the Aegean, many of them within sight of the Turkish shore. But Turkey says the continental shelf under the islands is an extension of the Turkish mainland.

A Turkish coast guard cutter accompanied the ship as it steamed away from its berth in Istanbul into the sea of Marmara on Friday.

Turkish military officials have said the ship would be fully protected on its mission, which Turkish leaders said was to undertake seismic research on the "open seas."

The Greeks say they recognize the right to cruise the open seas but they will not allow soundings or exploration in areas they claim.

Neither country knows whether the Aegean hides oil worth fighting over. But the Turks have made it clear they are interested not only in oil but also in keeping the Aegean from becoming a Greek lake.

Western diplomatic sources said a fight between the two North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries was unlikely. Both sides have been cautioned by their NATO partners to use restraint. Officials at NATO headquarters in Brussels declined comment on a possible confrontation.

The ship's captain, Ahmet Nisanci, asked about possible Greek interference, said "I have no such apprehensions. Why should I worry? This is a scientific mission."

"No outside power will be able to disrupt her projected course," the Turkish energy minister declared during the ceremonies.

Turkish leaders, including the military chief of staff, said they would retaliate against any interference with the ship's mission.

Ford, Reagan both claim victory

By JONATHAN WOLMAN

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ronald Reagan and Gerald Ford both claim they now have the votes to win the GOP presidential nomination, but they are eyeing Mississippi's 30 uncommitted delegates as if they may yet be the key to victory.

Ford's chief delegate hunter says the President has 1,135 committed Republican convention delegates, five more than needed for nomination. Reagan campaign chief John Sears has said Reagan has 1,140 delegates.

Ford claimed support of 15 new delegates from Hawaii on Friday.

Since both Ford and Reagan can't have a majority, someone must be wrong. Most media surveys of delegate strength show Ford slightly ahead, but both candidates below the magic 1,130 mark.

The Associated Press tally of committed or declared delegates, with the addition of those Hawaiians not previously counted, places Ford at 1,096 delegates, Reagan with 1,024 and 138 uncommitted.

Jim Lake, Reagan's press secretary, said Friday: "We have felt for some time that the Ford forces would try to present numbers that might enable them to falsely claim victory at about this period in the campaign. Therefore, today's press conference didn't surprise us. Nor does their announcement particularly concern us."

Since neither Ford nor Reagan have made their delegate surveys public, it is impossible to tell how their lists differ.

On Friday, Reagan, who had been vacationing at his ranch, returned home, met with staff members and devoted several hours to phoning delegates.

Ford and Reagan have been lobbying Mississippi delegates heavily in recent days, through supporters in the state and on the phone.

There has been growing pressure on the 60-member delegation, which will cast 30 convention votes, to take a stand.

There were indications that Sunday's delegate meeting in Jackson might prompt a vote to support either Ford or Reagan, but several leaders said they preferred to wait for a showdown.

Meanwhile, House GOP leader John Rhodes said he believes Ford will score a narrow win at the Kansas City convention next month and then may have no alternative but to take Reagan as his running mate. Rhodes said a Ford-Reagan ticket would unify the party and appeal to conservatives across the country.

Costume contest to climax event

Bargain Days draws to close

Advantageous purchases were made throughout the day Friday and the bargains, although undoubtedly not as plentiful as they were on Friday, can still be found today.

As could be expected, the mid-July afternoon was smoldering, but the heat didn't seem to deter consumers from browsing through the streets as they eyed the items included in the summer clearance sale. As soon as piece of merchandise caught the eye of the potential buyer, or buyers, the browsing ceased and the mad dash to the cash register commenced.

The Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club's ice cream social, which was located on the Courthouse lawn, beginning at 4:30 p.m., drew a fatigued group of bargain hunters, who were more than ready for a scoop of ice cream, a piece of cake and a beverage.

Scheduled events for the final day of Old Fashioned Bargain Days celebration includes a continuance of the sidewalk sales and a book fair sponsored by the American Association of University Women; to be held in the former Marios' Italian restaurant on Main Street across from the Courthouse. A barbershop quartet and chorus show, hosted by the Highland County Chapter of the Society for the Preservation of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America will be presented at 12:30 p.m. on the Courthouse steps.

Highlighting this last day will be the employee and customer costume contest. The contest and old-fashioned style show will be held at 2 p.m. on the Courthouse lawn. Clerk and customers (all age groups) will be fashionably dressed in costumes reminiscent of by-gone days and will be competing for prizes of $15 for first place, $10 for second, and $5 for third place. The categories in the style show will include, the best handmade outfit by an employee and customer, and the best authentic costume by an employee and customer. Mrs. Betty Wonderleigh, of the Martha Washington Shop, is the general chairman of both the employee and customer costume contest.

Offices at home may no longer enjoy tax break

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxpayers who occasionally use their homes in connection with their jobs and then claim a tax deduction are in for bad news: Congress has voted to end the tax break.

The proposed tax revision would except employees whose bosses provide them no office space.

Meanwhile, the Senate Finance Committee on Friday eliminated from the big tax bill 11 of 73 business tax-cut provisions that had been under attack as special-interest legislation.

In deleting the amendments and scaling down five others, the committee agreed only that the provisions, because they are so controversial, should be put aside now and reconsidered later.

Some of the disputed amendments would affect only one company. Others would provide tax benefits to numerous firms. In acting on the 16 proposals, the committee chopped about $175 million off the estimated $1-billion-a-year cost of the package of 73 amendments.

In accepting a package of amendments to the catch-all tax bill for next year, the full Senate voted Friday to make the deduction even harder to get than under the version approved by the House last year.

Other provisions approved by the Senate would make alimony payments easier for divorced husbands to deduct, replace the current sick-pay provisions with a new benefit for disabled retirees and make permanent a $1.7-billion tax cut for small business.

The Senate's action on business use of homes is aimed at clarifying a situation that has grown out of conflicting court rulings.

Numerous Americans now deduct a part of the cost of maintaining their home on grounds one room is used occasionally for job-related work.

The Senate amendment would virtually rule out such a deduction unless the worker has no other office and must use his home regularly.

Another provision would make it tougher to deduct the costs of maintaining a vacation home that is rented to others during most of the year. The two amendments together would save the Treasury $255 million a year.

Another $385 million would be saved by eliminating the sickpay system, which exempts from taxation a portion of an employee's earnings while he is ill. Instead, a $100-a-week exclusion would be allowed persons under 65 who retire because of permanent and total disability.

The Senate also agreed to an amendment that increases the tax benefits available for persons who, because of a job transfer, must move to a new area. This would cost an extra $55 million a year.

On eve of 1976 county fair

Aging 'Mr. Fairgrounds' stands poised

By GEORGE MALEK

"I may have to endure being trampled by livestock, seeing my track marred by tire tread, and my grass trampled on by visitors, but the crowning of champions and the grandstand shows will make it all worthwhile," said Mr. Fayette County Fairgrounds in an interview Saturday.

Mr. Fairgrounds, looking forward to its biggest week of the year, endures a great deal of pain to provide Fayette Countians with a showcase for their annual festivities.

"The prelude to the fair will begin Saturday," the Fairgrounds said. "Livestock will fill my barns and 4-Her's will be arranging displays in my Youth Building."

"Antique cars will roll into my infield area for a show Sunday. From 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. antique car buffs from Fayette and a number of surrounding counties will parade my infield inspecting the vintage vehicles."

The home of Fayette County Fairs since 1886, the Fairgrounds has witnessed remarkable change. When it hosted its first fair 90 years ago, the automobile was just an idea whose time had not yet come.

The antique autos to be shown

Sunday have been seen by Mr. Fairgrounds before. The grand old man saw them in their prime, new-fangled gadgets bringing fairgoers to visit him.

Opening ceremonies include the crowning of a 1976 Fair Queen at 7 p.m. Sunday. Although dozens of queens have been crowned in his grandstand over the years, Mr. Fairgrounds said he always finds the selection of a new queen invigorating.

"The young girls vying for the crown leave me with fond memories of times gone by," he said. "The fashions have changed, the excitement in the candidates faces is the same as it was years ago. Of course, even that may change someday. I'll be a sorry old man when first fair king is chosen, and I imagine that day is not too far off," he added.

"Music has changed a lot too," he said. "I've seen big bands, jazz, rock 'n roll. Every year is different, and I'm looking forward to what the Preble County Swingers have to offer."

The highlights of Monday's activities should jar the Fairgrounds' memory. A community picnic, the kind that faded decades ago, is scheduled at noon. Families gathering with blankets and picnic baskets is a sight Mr. Fairgrounds has not witnessed for years.

Monday evening, high-wheeled sulkies will take to his track. He hasn't seen them since he was a teenager. "They haven't raced in the high-wheelers since the turn of the century," he said.

"Although the speed of the newer sulkies is thrilling, I was disappointed to see the high-wheeler go. I always thought the high-wheeler brought out the best in driving skills," Mr. Fairgrounds mused, "but maybe that is just an example of the tricks an old man's mind plays on him."

Asked what he liked best about hosting the fair, Mr. Fairgrounds was quick to reply, "the children." He added, however, that to him, "children" is not limited by age.

"Years don't mean much to me," he said. "The children are the people of all ages who forget everything else and come to me knowing they'll have a good time."

"They are the ones who smile — the ones who enjoy what I have to offer. The children are the

FBI joins hunt for kidnapers

CHOWCHILLA, Calif. (AP) — The FBI today joined a nationwide dragnet for two men wanted in the kidnaping of 26 schoolchildren and their bus driver, after a third man sought in the bizarre mass abduction case surrendered.

Richard Allen Schoenfeld, 22, walked into the Oakland office of the Alameda County district attorney Friday and surrendered. He was accompanied by his father, a prominent podiatrist, and a lawyer.

A few hours later, federal and local arrest warrants were issued for Schoenfeld, his brother, James L., 24, and Frederick N. Woods IV, 24, son of the owner of the rock quarry where the kidnap victims were imprisoned for 18 hours last week.

The local warrants include 27 counts of kidnaping and 16 of armed robbery. Chowchilla Justice Court Judge Howard C. Green signed the local arrest warrants, which set bail for the three at $1 million apiece. The affidavit supporting the warrants was ordered sealed for 10 days.

Charles W. Bates, special agent in charge of the FBI's San Francisco office, said, "Investigations conducted by the local authorities indicate that Woods and Schoenfeld had fled the state."

Madera County Sheriff Ed Bates said Richard Schoenfeld will be transferred to Madera from Oakland by Thursday and formal charges will be filed there.

Schoenfeld arrived with his father and lawyer Edward Merrill, who defended Symbionese Liberation Army member Joseph Remiro in a 1975 murder trial.

Schoenfeld's father practices in Atherton, south of San Francisco.

In Oakland, Dist. Atty. Lowell Jensen said the armed robbery charges involved trinkets and clothing taken from the children during the kidnaping.

Jensen said Schoenfeld was to be charged under a section of the state Penal Code which covers kidnap for ransom or robbery.

The children and their driver were kidnaped July 15 from a school bus taking them home after summer school classes. They were imprisoned in a moving van buried in the Alameda County rock quarry before they clawed their way out.

No ransom demand was received, but reports published in two newspapers Friday said investigators had found a rough draft of a ransom note demanding $5 million.

The Oakland Tribune and The Fresno Bee said the note was found at the Portola Valley estate of quarry owner Frederick N. Woods III, and the newspapers said officials believed the note was written by the younger Woods.

Another break in the case came Friday morning, when investigators found three vans believed used in the kidnaping. They were in a San Jose warehouse which investigators said was leased by young Woods last December.

Cadets fight Army stand

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — More than half of the 182 cadets accused in the U.S. Military Academy's biggest cheating scandal have mounted a unified offensive that the Army says is unjustified.

Six of the cadets held a news conference Friday to accuse West Point officials of violating their constitutional rights. But Col. Gilbert Kirby, who heads the prosecution system that was created as the scandal spread, said the Army has been acting properly.

"There's no violation of anybody's rights here," the colonel said, although he conceded that the prosecution system that his Internal Review Panel replaced was "gentler" to the accused.

Michael Rose, a civilian lawyer retained by the accused cadets, said the academy had violated its own regulations and breached its contract with the corps by replacing the cadet honor committee with the review panel.

In effect, Rose argued that West Point has contradicted itself by saying the cadets' honor system cannot be changed to allow a lesser punishment than expulsion but at the same time supplanting the system's honor committee.

Coffee Break . . .

THE SUNDAY worship service at the First Presbyterian Church in Washington C.H. will be held at 9:30 a.m., instead of 10:30 a.m. as was published in the area church notices in Friday's Record-Herald.

THE WASHINGTON C.H. Kiwanis Club bicentennial band will present its first community concert at 6:30 p.m. Monday in front of the grandstand at the Fayette County Fairgrounds as part of the "bicentennial day" activity at the Fayette County Fair.

The Kiwanis Club band, which made its debut in the Fourth of July parade in Washington C.H., is comprised of approximately 50 musicians from the Washington C.H. area.

The band will be under the direction of Dennis Wollam, band director at Washington Senior High School.

FLIPPIN' IN — Channel 10 television personality Flippo the Clown will be flippin' into Washington C.H. Monday for the community picnic. Afterwards, he will present a magic act in the grandstand.

people who make all the abuse worthwhile," he concluded.

FILLING THE BOOT—Lt. Cecil D. Seaman of the Washington C.H. Fire Department, left, is shown receiving donations from two young female contributors who gave money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Firemen manned booths at three other locations in the city as part of an effort to raise funds for victims of muscular dystrophy. They will be asking for donations during Saturday also.

Two other mishaps probed

Two persons injured in Ohio 41-S crash

Two persons were reportedly injured Friday night when a Washington C.H. man's car travelled off of Ohio 41-S and damaged 20 rods of fence, a utility pole, and a cement culvert, Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported.

A card driven by Jeffrey S. Lemaster, 19, of 754 High St., was southbound on Ohio 41-S when it reportedly went off a curve into a right ditch about a half mile south of the Miami Trace Road at 11 p.m. Friday.

The car struck a utility pole, 20 rods of fence belonging to Loren C. Johnson, Greenfield, a guardrail, and a cement culvert, before coming to rest on its side, sheriff's deputies said.

Lemaster, who was charged with reckless operation, showed signs of injury, but he and a fellow passenger also injured, Benny A. Nebbergall, 31, of Greenfield, were not treated at the time. The car was demolished.

Traveling north on Ohio 38, a pickup truck driven by Ellis L. Gordon, 56, of New Holland, reportedly went off the left side of the road, striking a car traveling south on the roadway. The second car was driven by Joseph E. Horney, 58, of 1488 Ohio 38.

Sheriff's deputies said Gordon's car proceeded into a left ditch after the collision, slightly damaging some fence located just north of Washington C.H. at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

The truck was moderately damaged, the car was slightly damaged, and Gordon was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Glen E. Franklin, 18, of 1009 Golfview Drive, was southbound on CCC Highway-E when he reportedly lost control of his car on a curve about a half mile south of Washington C.H. at 8:15 p.m. Friday.

The car reportedly went into a left ditch and struck a mailbox and post belonging to John A. Redd, 2506 CCC Highway-E. There was moderate damage to the car.

Seek accord in walkout

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the peak of the California fruit harvest nearing, bargainers hope to find a settlement to end the cannery workers' walkout that growers say could cost them nearly $2.5 billion.

"We're talking about the entire crop, and the entire crop is in jeopardy today," Harry Kubo of Parlier, Calif., said Friday.

Kubo, president of the Nisei Farmers League and head of a committee formed a month ago to deal with California farm problems, said farm workers "are going through an equally traumatic experience" because their work is seasonal and are suffering a tremendous loss of employment because of the strike.

He estimated the potential grower loss at $2.5 billion if the strike continues indefinitely.

Harvesting will reach its peak in about a week, and at that time the canneries would be hiring another 30,000 workers. Delays in processing the fruit could result in shortages and force up the prices of canned fruit in supermarkets.

Mediators continued meeting today with bargainers for the canners and striking workers. Chief federal mediator James Secare reported some progress Friday, but said a settlement was not near. Bargaining was expected to continue through the weekend on an around-the-clock basis.

In Oregon, cannery workers in the Salem area accepted contracts ending strikes, but a walkout by state grain inspectors continued to tie up all grain shipments from Oregon ports.

The inspectors are demanding wage equality with federal inspectors who earn $6,000 a year more.

Rail suit plan nixed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Attorney General William J. Brown said on Friday he could be held in contempt of court if he sued the bankrupt Penn Central Railroad for delinquent property taxes as he has been asked to do by state Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson.

Ferguson asked Brown on Thursday to initiate legal action to collect $59.3 million he says the Penn Central still owes 74 counties in the state. He noted that certain Ohio school districts were especially affected by the nonpayment and said six of those systems had asked his office to conduct a "financial analysis."

New truce worked out

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Christians said today they had overrun much of the Moslem slum of Nabaa after a heavy artillery barrage, and the Arab League said another tentative cease-fire had been worked out in Lebanon's long and bloody civil war.

Fighting was reported in Beirut's port area, along front lines dividing the capital into Moslem and Christian sectors and in the mountain resorts to the east.

Security sources and hospitals reported that more than 170 persons had been killed and 235 wounded since

Friday night, raising the death toll in more than 15 months of civil war to more than 33,000 by some estimates.

Huge fires burned out of control in Nabaa, located not far from the besieged Palestinian camp of Tal Zaatar in Christian-held eastern Beirut.

"Communist defenders and their Palestinian guerrilla officers are fleeing after suffering heavy casualties," a Christian radio broadcast claimed. "Nabaa has virtually fallen."

A guerrilla communique conceded that "advance positions" in Nabaa had been overrun. "But street battles and house-to-house fighting still are raging with Christian Fascist militias in other parts of Nabaa," it said.

Both sides also said Christian artillery and mortars pounded Tal Zaatar, where leftist defenders have been holding out for 33 days.

Viking spacecraft repairs readied

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Viking 1 trouble shooters have successfully tested a plan they believe will free a jammed mechanical arm aboard the lander, a device that is critical in the search for life on Mars.

Engineers tried the scheme Friday on a duplicate Viking lander in a sandbox turned into a simulated Martian desert at Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

Late tonight, repair instructions will be fed into Viking's computer, and the results of the long-distance repair job will be known Sunday evening, said mission director Tom Young.

The jammed arm, which is the only tool Viking can use to obtain Martian soil for biological analysis, was the most serious of three problems to strike in recent days.

Officials said they would try next week to repair a seismometer designed to detect marsquakes. Problems with two radio circuits that are to transmit data 213 million miles from Viking to earth were still causing some trouble.

Viking's prime mission was threatened by a tiny locking pin that should have fallen clear of the dirt-scooping arm after the craft set down on the surface of Mars.

With the pin still in place, the first attempt to move the telescoping arm resulted in it becoming stuck Thursday.

The scheme for solving the problem involved ordering the arm to extend itself about 15 inches, at which time the pin should fall onto the surface of Mars.

Only if the diagnosis itself is wrong, and it is not the pin that is the root of the problem, will the arm remain jammed. Even if the pin does not fall clear, said

Viking officials, the arm can be used, but certain precautions must be taken.

If the repair attempt is successful, the first digging in Martian soil will begin Wednesday.

The communications difficulties were blamed on malfunctioning equipment causing "conversations" between mission controllers and the robot probe to be limited in time.

In addition, fewer pictures were being sent back to earth. On Friday, a color picture that had been scheduled for relay to earth was canceled.

Scientists also issued the second weather report from Mars. The report, covering Wednesday and Thursday, said temperatures ranged from 123 degrees below zero to 24 below, slightly cooler readings than were reported earlier. The winds had shifted from east to southwest and were blowing 19 miles per hour at their strongest.

First-class postage rate challenged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service, target of several pending legal attacks, could suffer a substantial financial setback if seven states succeed in their challenge of the 13-cent first-class postal rate.

Opposing the letter rate, Maine Attorney General Joseph Brennan charged that it doesn't cost the Postal Service 13 cents to deliver a first-class letter.

By officially making the 13-cent rate permanent last Sunday, "the Postal Service apparently means to continue business as usual, forcing first-class mailers to subsidize mail of other classes," Brennan said.

The seven states notified the U.S. Court of Appeals on Friday that it will challenge the legality of the first-class postage rate.

The states have opposed the Postal Service plan to establish 13 cents as the permanent rate in hearings before the Postal Rate Commission, an independent advisory body.

"The evidence presented showed that the 13-cent rate is well in excess of the cost of mailing a first class letter," Brennan said.

The other states involved in the case are New Jersey, Massachusetts, Florida, Indiana, New Mexico and Texas.

The case resembles a suit by 11 states challenging the Postal Service's increase last December on a temporary basis from 10 to 13 cents per letter. The Postal Service won in U.S. District Court, but the case is now on appeal.

Other cases challenging postal rates on a variety of grounds have been brought by associations representing bulk mailers and greeting-card publishers and by the National Easter Seal Society. The Court of Appeals has heard arguments in these cases and is considering its decision.

A court-ordered rollback to 10 cents per letter could increase the Postal Service's red ink by $7 million per day, the mail agency says.

In a case in U.S. District Court here, 51 members of Congress are challenging Postal Service regulations allowing certain unprofitable post offices to be closed for economy reasons. Losing that case would increase deficits by $5,500 per day, the Postal Service said.

The agency lost a record $1.4 billion in the last fiscal year and projects losses of $1 billion more in fiscal 1977 without new federal subsidies to cover the deficits.

An able parliamentarian

The machinery of the House of Representatives emits a lot of laborsome creaks and groans. Now and again it seems about to come to a halt. Somehow it always manages to keep moving along. Much of the credit for that goes not to the membership, but to the House parliamentarian.

These reflections are prompted by the death of Lewis Deschler, who had served ably in this position for nearly half a century before his retirement. As parliamentarian he had done much, on many occasions, to keep the machinery going when it seemed to have reached an impasse. To do this requires deep knowledge, sound judgment, and the firmness to rule on touchy questions. Lewis Deschler had these qualities in notable degree.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
A day in which you MUST avoid extremes: They will tempt in various forms. Be especially careful in social activities.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Neither expect nor demand too much and you will be surprised at your all-over returns. Romance and travel highly favored.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
A satisfactory day indicated, but the good will of others will be important. Stress your amiable side, therefore, and speak abruptly to no one.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Some complicated situations indicated. Be sure you have all facts before making decisions. Whether day is for recreation or you have strenuous tasks, be philosophical.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Despite a few obstacles, many benefits and new means of attainment are indicated. Especially favored: romance, travel, family interests.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
A new surge of energy should carry you far along the road to success and recognition. But be sure of your goals. Don't go off on tangents.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
If you aim straight and do not permit emotions or a biased viewpoint to throw you off course, you will know how to cope with ALL, not some situations.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Do not let a personal disappointment mar your overall perspective. Continue to aim for high goals. Your adeptness, know-how and intuition should be potent now.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Just the right day to bring off something new in your occupational area. Move fast! Evening hours favor romance.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
Look for some unusually pleasant communications from those at a distance; also new contacts which could prove invaluable in a business way.

YOU BORN TODAY Versatility, gregariousness and boundless energy are your outstanding traits. Although you are very progressive in your thinking and your methods, you have a great fondness for old traditions and for the antique in art and furnishings - may even succeed as a dealer in such objects. With a great flair for the dramatic, you could excel on the stage or, in the legal profession, as a trial lawyer. Other fields suited to your abilities: politics, statesmanship, manager of large enterprises or music. Traits to curb: Overaggressiveness and a tendency to dominate others.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.
MONDAY, JULY 26

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Sept. 20)
You may consider making some changes, but be careful not to make too many, or go too far in any one direction. A good adjustment should work out well, however.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)
A shifting of certain situations indicated; perhaps conditions altering. You should be in on the movements and plans.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Go about your affairs with zeal and confidence, since there is little likelihood of difficulty now. Be guided by past experience, however.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
You may have been wanting for some time to do something special. Now you have the chance to do so with more assurance. Be tactful in proffering ideas, however.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Mixed influences. Carelessness in "minor" matters could cause a series of undesirable situations. Use your wits to hold the line.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
If well-planned in advance, you could now launch a new venture, but don't rush headlong into uncharted seas.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
A good period for everyday matters and, in some respects, for the unusual and extraordinary. Look for some good news in the p.m.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Excellent stellar influences! Certain recent pressures should be lifting and some of your cherished desires can be realized. You have good friends in your corner.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Practical issues will demand your complete attention. There's a temptation now to skip details, but this could be costly. Heed the voice of experience.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Here is one of those choice days where your personality, ambitions and know-how, teamed up, can help make new records.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Being the rugged individualist that you are, you rarely "follow the crowd." Don't change this policy now. Continue as a leader.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
Look to others for suggestions - help, too. Don't try too much by yourself or reject ideas arbitrarily, for the sake of delight in personal achievement.

YOU BORN TODAY have been endowed with a high order of intellect, unusual versatility and boundless ambition. You are a great lover of luxuries and the good things of life; will work unremittingly to accumulate the things of life; will work unremittingly to accumulate the things you want - and usually attain them. You have a flair for the dramatic and would make an outstanding writer, playwright, painter, statesman or lawyer. Despite your fine gifts for organization and management, however, you have a tendency to start things and drop them when you lose interest. Try to curb this trait since it is one which could stand in the way of your ultimate accomplishment. Avoid, also, inclinations toward obstinacy and an insistence on having your own way.

Howe 'guilty' in sex case

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Rep. Allan T. Howe says he will continue his re-election campaign despite his conviction on charges of soliciting sex from two police decoy prostitutes, and the advice of top Utah Democrats that he drop out of the race.

"I am innocent of this misdemeanor charge and I intend to keep fighting," Howe said in a statement after he was found guilty Friday by a three-woman, one-man jury that deliberated one hour and 43 minutes. He said he will appeal.

Judge Raymond S. Uno sentenced him to a $150 fine and 30 days in jail, but said the jail term would be suspended upon payment of the fine.

Defense attorney Dean Mitchell, who called no witnesses in Howe's defense, asked the court to delay payment of the fine for 30 days. Appeal bail was placed at $300.

The conviction drew statements that Howe should quit his re-election efforts from Gov. Calvin L. Rampton, Sen. Frank E. Moss and the state's other congressman, K. Gunn McKay. Howe is seeking a second term as congressman from Utah's 2nd District, which includes Salt Lake City.

Rubber talks to resume

Akron, Ohio (AP) — The two sides in the 95-day-old rubber industry strike are being brought back together next Tuesday under federal auspices, but the big question is whether negotiators will have anything to talk about when they meet in Washington.

After a three-week recess, negotiations between the United Rubber Workers—representing 66,500 strikers—and rubber industry representatives will resume Tuesday under the auspices of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

URW International President Peter Bommarito said U.S. Secretary of Labor William J. Usery Jr. confirmed arrangements for the renewed negotiations Friday after talking with industry representatives.

Since key talks with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. recessed in Cleveland July 6, Bommarito said the union has been asking industry negotiators to resume negotiations.

The companies have asked that the union reconsider the industry's final offer as a basis for resumption of talks, it was reported.

Buyers of coffee shrug off prices

By TERRY KIRKPATRICK
AP Business Writer

Getting started in the morning is getting more expensive these days, if coffee is involved. But some just can't do without.

"There is no point when I would stop buying it," Carmen Elera said as she checked prices in the coffee section of a San Francisco supermarket. "I have to have my coffee in the morning."

"I have no choice," echoed Mary Pejiri in Chicago. "My husband is a big coffee drinker and has to have it regardless of the cost. If we have to cut down somewhere, it won't be coffee."

Shoppers have watched coffee prices rise 50 cents a pound or more in the past year, mostly because of a frost that struck the Brazilian coffee crop last July, the war in Guatemala and this year's earthquake in Guatemala.

But coffee drinkers are apparently buying just as much as ever, although they are shaving pennies where they can. Others are clipping discount coupons, using instant coffee to avoid brewing a full pot, cutting down to one cup a day, or switching to tea.

"The price increases passed on to consumers over the past year have totaled about 40 per cent, but we are still moving our best sellers or medium-priced brands," said Fred Breaux, a New Orleans grocer.

Safeway Stores, which operates 2,451 outlets in 28 states, says it hasn't noticed any changes in coffee buying patterns. And General Foods Corp., the country's largest coffee producer, says sales have held up despite the price increases, probably because some buyers are stockpiling.

"There has been absolutely no decline in coffee consumption in restaurants and very little at the retail level," said Edward Jones, who has studied the coffee situation for the Mitchell Hutchins Inc. brokerage firm in New York.

He predicts a "modest dropoff" in sales in the near future if high prices persist, but he won't estimate the size of the drop. "We're in uncharted seas," he said. "There's never been a coffee price increase approaching this magnitude."

Garth Thorburn of the U.S. Agriculture Department expects a "5 to 10 per cent reduction in consumption if prices continue this high. But it hasn't happened yet."

In 1936 a total of 911 vessels docked at Cleveland to load and unload cargoes.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Letter might convince persistent neighbors

DEAR ABBY: Our neighbors are among the nicest people we've ever met, but within the last few months, they have made subtle but persistent attempts to bring missionaries of The Church Of Jesus Christ Of Latter-Day Saints (Mormons) into our home to show us the "right" religion.

They have told us that it is their "duty" to the Lord to show us how happy they are and how happy we would be with the Mormon church.

We have told them that we are quite satisfied with our religion and do not feel the need to change, but they keep trying.

How do we let them know without antagonizing them that we enjoy their friendship but aren't interested in their religion?

THE NEIGHBORS
DEAR NEIGHBORS: You seem able to communicate very well in a letter. If you've told them verbally and they aren't getting the message, write a letter. (Of course, after this hits print, you may not have to.)

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for saying that a husband should not confess his infidelity to his wife. I've always felt that in this regard, ignorance was bliss, but my husband had other ideas.

Several years ago, the company my husband works for sent him to Europe for three weeks. Knowing that the flesh is sometimes weak, before he left, I told him: "I don't believe you will ever be untrue to me, but if you should, please DON'T tell me! Even if I have my doubts, convince me that I'm wrong."

Well, he went, and he was untrue, and he couldn't wait to tell me about it. I forgave him, of course, but the hurt will always be there plus the fear of a repeat performance. (As long as he strayed once, what's one more time?)

I agree with you, Abby. If you must confess an infidelity, confess it to your pastor, or ask the Lord to forgive you through your prayers, but spare your spouse the pain if possible.

HURT APLENTY
DEAR HURT: Confession to the spouse may be good for the soul, but my mail tells me it's bad for the marriage.

DEAR ABBY: I have a big problem. My husband sits in front of the television hour after hour, day after day, whenever he's home. He hardly ever talks to me anymore.

He even eats his meals in front of the TV! I could take my clothes off and stand in front of the TV stark naked, and he would ask me to move so he could see the TV.

We have no children, and I'm afraid we won't ever have any as long as we have a TV set. It sure is a good method of birth control, but I would really like children.

What should I do? Dismantle the TV, or go out and get myself another man? I am getting very lonely.

TV WIDOW
DEAR WIDOW: How old is your husband? And how old are you? How long have you been married? Is this alleged sexual indifference in favor of the TV something new? Or has it been going on for a long time? Fill me in on the facts, and I'll tell you which to dismantle the TV or your man.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARYLAND MON: When your son starts telling you that he prefers blonde babysitters, he doesn't need one.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Saturday, July 24, the 206th day of 1976. There are 160 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in History:
On this date in 1704, the British captured Gibraltar from Spain during the War of the Spanish Succession.

On this date:
In 1783, the Latin American patriot Simon Bolivar was born in Caracas, Venezuela.

In 1870, the first railroad car from the Pacific Coast reached New York City.

Miss Hardman honor guest at bridal shower

Miss Penny Hardman, bride-elect of Marvin Matthews, was guest of honor at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Fuller Merritt.

Mrs. Virginia Allen and Mrs. James Hobbs were the winners of the shower contests and each presented their gifts to the honored guest.

Miss Hardman opened her array of lovely gifts and graciously thanked each person for the gifts.

The hostess had made a twin-bell shaped cake and a Hollie Hobby girl cake which centered the tea table. Orange sherbet punch, cake, mints and nuts were served to those present.

Invited guests were Mrs. Virgil Hardman and Mrs. Albert Matthews, mothers of the betrothed couple, Miss Denise Matthews, Mrs. Paul Thornhill, Mrs. David Dewees, Miss Tammy Walls, Mrs. Keith Garinger, Mrs. Virginia Allen, Mrs. James Bush, Mrs. David Hagler, Mrs. J.W. Kearney, Mrs. Jeddy Graves, Miss Jean Palmer, Mrs. Keith Osborne, Miss Dianna Combs, Mrs. Loy Overly, Miss Marsha Rulon, Mrs. Jack Yeoman and Mrs. Donald Hyer of Washington C.H.; Mrs. Larry Cook of Jeffersonville; Mrs. Charles Wehner of Greenfield; Mrs. James Hobbs of Bloomingburg; and Mrs. Robert Stanforth of New Holland.

Miss Hardman and Mr. Matthews will be married September 4 in White Oak Grove United Methodist Church.

Chicken livers and thighs add new menu versatility

Two of the best ways to create new and unusual ideas with chicken today are to add chicken livers and chicken thighs to your menu plans.

Both are now plentiful, according to the National Broiler Council, so it's a good time to discover how versatile these often neglected chicken parts can be. Both are also loaded with nutrients essential to a family's good health.

Chicken livers, of course, are boneless and 100 per cent edible. They're especially rich in Vitamin A and in iron. Figure on a quarter pound per serving.

It's important not to overcook livers. Naturally tender and mild in flavor, they should be brown outside and slightly pink inside when done.

The simplest way to prepare livers is to saute in hot butter in a skillet over low heat. Cook about five minutes, turning often, and serve on toast points or rice with pan juices added.

Chicken livers are also delicious as pates or mousses or as bitesize appetizers. Serve them in a chafing dish stroganoff, as kabobs or in a variety of main dishes.

Chicken thighs, the meaty upper portion of the legs, average about four ounces each and two make a hearty serving. The moist, dark meat makes the thigh a choice piece to grill, bake or to fry. Or it can be easily boned for a special treat. Also try pounding the boned thigh into a thin cutlet, adding a favorite filling mixture and rolling.

One thigh provides 34.2 per cent of the adult recommended daily allowance of protein, yet it has just 108.7 calories. It also contributes Vitamin A, thiamine, riboflavin, niacin, iron, calcium and phosphorus to the diet.

QUICK SUMMER TREAT

Chicken livers are the gourmet ingredient in summer kabobs which can be cooked in a jiffy both indoors and out. Now's a good time to try them because the word from the National Broiler Council is that they're readily available.

For kabobs, cut chicken livers in half and thread alternately on skewers with onion and cherry tomatoes. Marinate in your favorite Italian dressing and broil or cook on the grill (about 7-10 minutes each side), basting frequently.

Chicken thighs also make excellent kabobs. Here's a recipe that won raves from judges in the Arkansas state cookoff, a preliminary to the 1976 National Chicken Cooking Contest.

CHICKEN KABOBS

6 broiler-fryer chicken thighs, skinned, boned and cut in 1-inch chunks

WCH native authors book

Miss Mary E. Wood, associate professor of foreign language at Ball State University, had become fascinated by the many French names of Indians towns, so she wrote a book. A native of Washington C.H., she graduated from Dennison, University in Granville, and received her master's degree in Spanish from Texas Woman University in Denton, Tex. She has a French certificate from Aix-Marseille in France, and has been teaching at Ball State U. since 1945.

Reprints have been made. Towns in Ohio in the book are Marietta, Belpre, Gallipolis, Mowrystown, and New Paris. The book is $7.95, until Aug 15, when the price will be $10.00.

She had assigned her French classes an assignment that was to turn into seven years of hard work for her. She assigned students to take one or two towns and write the Chamber of Commerce or postmaster in the smaller towns, for historical information.

Since people don't like to write letters, it was unsuccessful, so she took on the project herself. She started with La Grange and combed the map for towns and cities with French names, then started research trips.

As the project grew, one hundred and ten towns and cities later, her result is being published in a book, "French Imprint on the Heart of America," subtitled "Historical Vignettes of 110 French-related Localities in Indiana and the Ohio Valley," with Unigraphic, Inc., of Evansville, Ind., the publisher.

In gathering material for her book, Miss Wood always went to the oldest building in town, the hardware store, library or the newspaper office. She was invariably sent to the oldest resident in town, who was usually in his 80's or 90's. The elderly people were eager to talk to her, she said, because many of them lamented the fact that their grandchildren and other young people were not interested in their recollections.

Miss Wood spent two weeks in the French Huguenote center in Charleston, S.C., to document origins of various families.

When asked if she planned to write another book, she replied, "I'm a Spanish teacher, and there are many towns with Spanish names."

The book may be ordered from Unigraphic, Inc., 1401 N. Fares Ave., Evansville, Ind. 47711.

CEREALS MAKE A PICNIC BREAKFAST — Shaggy Cackles and Double Apple Bread use fortified ready-to-eat cereals as ingredients.

Ready-to-eat cereals make the menu and picnic breakfast

READY-TO-EAT CEREALS MAKE THE MENU

Weekend excursions call for an early start, but don't set out without breakfast. Carry it along — after you've put a few miles and some travel time behind you, you can choose a pretty spot to stop for a novel picnic breakfast. Or make a picnic breakfast an early beginning to a day outdoors.

With individual packages of assorted ready-to-eat cereal, fresh fruit, and juice and milk in vacuum containers or a cooler, you've got the makings of a nutritious meal. Shaggy Cackles and Double Apple Bread add something special: made with fortified cereal for more nourishment, they're home-cooked foods that travel well. Feast with convenient and lightweight plastic dishes and utensils.

Shaggy Cackles are a relative of Scotch eggs. Hard-cooked eggs are coated with a zippy mustard and deviled ham mixture, rolled in crushed four-grain multi-vitamin and iron supplement cereal, and baked. They're delicious hot, or as cold picnic fare.

Double Apple Bread is another breakfast novelty. Its sweet flavor comes from apple and cinnamon flavored cereal, plus cinnamon, allspice and fresh apples. One bite into the golden bread reveals its wonderful texture.

Start your day off right. Make your breakfast a picnic with an easy-to-fix, easy-to-enjoy ingredient: ready-to-eat cereals.

SHAGGY CACKLES

1 3/4 cups four grain multi-vitamin and iron supplement cereal (Kellogg's Product 19)

2 cans (4 1/2 ounces each) deviled ham
1 teaspoon dry mustard
6 hard-cooked eggs, peeled
Lightly crush cereal to make about 3/4 cup. Mix together deviled ham and mustard. Pat deviled ham mixture around hard-cooked eggs to make even coating. Roll eggs in cereal. Place eggs on lightly greased or foil-lined baking sheet. Bake in 375 degrees F. oven 10 to 15 minutes. Serve warm or cold. To eat, cut into halves or quarters with sharp knife. YIELD: 6 servings.

DOUBLE APPLE BREAD

2 cups apple and cinnamon-flavored cereal (Kellogg's Apple Jacks)
one-third cup margarine or butter
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/2 cup milk
1 cup finely chopped pared cored tart cooking apples
Finely crush cereal in electric blender to make 1 cup. In large bowl cream margarine and sugar; beat in eggs. Add vanilla. In medium bowl mix crushed cereal, flour, baking powder, baking soda, cinnamon, salt and allspice. Blend dry ingredients into creamed mixture alternately with milk. Fold in apples. Turn into greased 9 x 5 x 3 inch loaf pan. Bake in 350 degrees F. oven 35 to 45 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes, turn out of pan and cool completely. Yield: 1 loaf.

Give them a meatless supper

MEATLESS CHOW MEIN — Seasonal celery and fresh mushrooms are mainstay and roasted almonds add their inimitable contribution.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

Now that many of us are using foods other than meat or fish for a supper main course, you might like to try a Meatless Chow Mein.

This dish has celery and fresh mushrooms as its mainstay, both at their peak supply from fall through spring. The celery, one of our thriftiest fresh vegetables, contributes substance and the mushrooms their delectable flavor.

MEATLESS CHOW MEIN

1 teaspoon instant chicken bouillon
1 cup hot water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons cold water
1 tablespoon Japanese-type soy sauce
3 tablespoons peanut oil
1 quart thinly sliced celery
1/2 pound thinly sliced mushrooms, about 3 cups
2 small onion, finely chopped (about 1/2 cup)
1/2 of a green pepper, finely chopped (1-3rd to 1/2 cup)
1/2 cup whole blanched roasted almonds

Hot cooked rice
Canned crisp Chinese noodles
In a measure dissolve the bouillon in the hot water with the salt, ginger and garlic powder; set aside.

In a small container stir together the cornstarch, water and soy sauce until smooth; set aside.

In a 10-inch skillet over moderately low heat, heat the oil; add the celery, mushrooms, onion and green pepper; cook, stirring often, about 5 minutes. Add the bouillon mixture; increase the heat and bring to boiling. Reduce heat, cover and simmer until celery is tender-crisp — 3 to 5 minutes, depending on just how thin the celery is sliced.

Push vegetables to one side of skillet. Into liquid in other side of skillet stir the cornstarch mixture; cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and boiling; mix with the vegetables. Sprinkle with the almonds.

Serve at once over rice; pass the noodles.

Makes 4 servings.
Note: The combination of celery, mushrooms and soy sauce cooked in this fashion produces a drab looking dish, but not everything good to eat has to have a spectacular appearance!

Family gathers for birthdays

The country home near Jeffersonville of Mr. and Mrs. Don Scott was the setting for a family gathering honoring the birthday of their mother, Mrs. Blanche Scott. Additional birthdays were Mrs. Eihel Yahn and little Miss Karen Singleton.

The bountiful meal was served picnic style on the front lawn. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott and sons, Robby and Jackie, of Xenia; Mr. and Mrs. Greg Scott and son Timmy; Mrs. Sharon Martindale and son, Gary from South Solon; Mr. and Mrs. Randy Scott from Mount Sterling; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Althouse Mr. and Mrs. Dale Althouse and daughter, Chasity, Bloomington; Mr. and Mrs. David Pollard and daughter, Angelia, Mr. and Mrs. David Gilbert and son, David, Mr. and Mrs. Don Scott and children, Kathy, Tracy, Brian and George, Jeffersonville; Mr. Tim Moore and Miss Pam Moore, Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Orr, Mr. Ed Orr; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Green and son Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Jan Singleton and children, Kristy, Jeff, Kathy, Karen and Jason, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Yahn and Debbie and Phillip, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Michael and sons, Jeff, Terry, and Brian, Mrs. Regina Matthews and son, Shane, Mr. Joe Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Althouse, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Althouse and son, Brad, and the guest of honor Mrs. Blanche Scott, Washington Court House.

The afternoon was spent in swimming, fishing, pitching horseshoes and a baseball game.

Hot bread suits hot weather

SUMMERTIME HOT BREAD—Bake Bran Scones on a griddle or in a skillet and keep the kitchen cool.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

One of the best ways to enjoy a hot bread in warm weather is to bake scones on a griddle instead of in the oven. Scottish cooks have been making scones in this fashion for years and years; only they may call the griddle a "girdle."

Now that the drive is on to have us all include more fiber in our diet, you might like to try Bran Scones. We found the bran made an excellent contribution to both texture and flavor. Split open and slathered with butter, the scones are likely to please any hot bread enthusiast.

BRAN SCONES

2 cups flour
1 cup all-bran cereal
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar, if desired
1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 large eggs
1/2 cup milk

In a large bowl stir together the flour, bran, baking powder, salt and, if used, the sugar. With a pastry blender, cut in butter until it is no longer visible. Beat together the eggs and milk just enough to blend; add all at once to flour mixture and stir well. Knead on a floured pastry cloth until smooth — 2 or 3 minutes. With a floured stockinet-covered rolling pin roll out the dough on the pastry cloth to 1/2-inch thickness. Cut out with a round 2-inch wide cutter. Bake on an electric griddle or in an electric skillet (lightly grease and preheat whichever one is used) at 325 degrees until lightly browned — 10 minutes on each side; the low heat will allow the inside of the scones to cook through in this time. Serve hot with butter. These scones reheat remarkably well in a preheated moderate oven for a brief time. Makes 16 to 18.

Note: If you use a nonelectric griddle or skillet on top of the range, preheat it until it is quite hot — the time this will take will depend on the material your utensil is made of; then regulate the heat so it is low enough to take 10 minutes to brown each side of the scones.

Open air services set

Plans for the annual open air services were announced today. For the past several years the Churches of Christ and Christian Church of Fayette County have been sponsoring these open air services each August. The services will be held each Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. during the month. They will again be held in the Miami Trace Football stadium and will be moved into the auditorium in case of inclement weather.

While these Sunday evening worship services are sponsored by the above churches, the spokesman made it clear that they are open to everyone and it is hoped that a large portion of the community will share in them.

A different congregation will be responsible for conducting the services each week.

Morey Amsterdam plotting return

By GREG MCGARRY

Associated Press Writer
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Comedian Morey Amsterdam wrote jokes for Will Rogers at the age of 15 and is busy now, at age 61, plotting a return to television with actress Rose Marie.

"It'll be a continuation of the Dick Van Dyke Show but this one might take place in an ad agency," he said in a recent interview.

Amsterdam and Rose Marie, whom he has known since she was 14, became familiar to millions of Americans as Buddy and Sally, a pair of comedy writers on the "The Allen Brady Show," a television series within a television series, "The Dick Van Dyke Show."

Amsterdam says his new TV series is still in the planning stages, just one of many kettles on his stove.

This fall his "cook book for drunks" titled "Betty Cooker's Crock Book" will be published.

"I did this as a joke," he said. "Whenever I was in Europe I noticed that 90 per cent of the meals were made with some kind of booze in them so I got the idea and started collecting the different recipes. And you know what's funny, I don't even drink."

About 150 "drunk jokes" will be interspersed between the recipes.

Also to be published this fall will be Amsterdam's "Celebrity Diet Book", a collection of the favorite diets of top celebrities.

"I'd just finished my other book and I was sitting in my publisher's office and he said, 'Well, what do you have for us now?' Well, I said, 'What's a sure-fire book?' And he said 'Anything with the word diet in it,'" Amsterdam explained.

"Well, I thought, celebrities are always watching their weight. You've got to remember, on television you put on 20 pounds immediately. It's something about the medium."

So Amsterdam collected the diets of 125 celebrities, many of them friends, and packaged them for publication.

In addition to the publishing projects, Amsterdam is the mastermind behind two other television series. One — "Can You Top This," already syndicated nationally — is based on the old radio show that featured top comics telling jokes. The other project is an animated version of the Marx Brothers antics.

Also in the works is an autobiography entitled "I Remember Me" which Amsterdam hopes to have completed within two years.

Morey said it will trace his career from its start at 14, when he had his first taste of vaudeville. His older brother was a pianist on the vaudeville circuit. When a comic in the troupe fell ill, he asked Morey to fill in. Morey obliged.

"At 15 I was writing for Will Rogers," Morey continued proudly. "Later on, throughout the years, I wrote for all the great American comics — Bob Taylor, Milton Berle, Danny Thomas, Bob Hope and Red Skelton."

Amsterdam was a natural for his role in the popular TV series. Producer Carl Reiner was after a real gag writer to play a gag writer.

"They were looking for people who really played the parts in real life," Morey said.

Road superintendent wins reinstatement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In a decision released Wednesday, the state Personnel Board of Review ruled that a highway maintenance superintendent cannot be fired for giving away tons of state salt to local municipalities.

The decision reversed the transportation department's firing of Earl J. Ledford of Delroy.

Ledford is one of three state officials fired for giving away state salt and later ordered back on the state payroll by the board.

Board members said that Ledford, while serving as superintendent of the state highway garage in Carrollton, ordered salt loaded on trucks from the villages of Carrollton, Malvern and Magnolia in 1974 and 1975.

The board ruled that the salt was needed during a heavy snow when emergencies existed and traffic was backed up due to snow and ice on the roads.

The first recorded strike in Ohio came in 1835. It was the Cincinnati Harnessmakers' Union and demands were for higher wages and a 10-hour day.

Alcatraz still white elephant for government

By JOHN C. EAGAN
Associated Press Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Thirteen years after Alcatraz was closed as a prison, the federal government is still trying to figure out what to do with the grim rock that for 29 years was the steel-barred home for 1,576 of America's toughest criminals.

Former Mayor Joseph L. Alioto thinks a giant monument symbolizing "Justice" should be built on the outcropping a mile off Fisherman's Wharf. Sort of a West Coast counterpart to New York's Statue of Liberty.

A band of American Indians who occupied the island for 19 months — before they were ousted by federal officers — wanted to turn it into an Indian cultural center, a goal still mentioned from time to time.

Also among the suggestions — a privately developed hotel, convention and shopping complex. One developer wants to build a gambling casino.

But the most popular notion, according to the National Park Service, is to continue the public tours which started three years ago and are tentatively scheduled to continue for at least two more years.

About 1,500 tourists walk daily through the grim corridors and crumbling cellblocks where the likes of Al Capone and George "Machine Gun" Kelly paid their debts to society.

Since the public tours began in October 1973, about 1.2 million people — including 20 onetime Alcatraz prisoners — have taken the 2½-hour excursion to the infamous former federal penitentiary that is now part of the Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

Some visitors fill out questionnaires asking what should happen to Alcatraz. Seventy-seven per cent say the tours should continue, according to Lee Shenk of the Park Service, which runs the tours. A staff committee is preparing recommendations, he said, and the report will be ready later this year.

In three years, the tours have brought in $1.69 million. Five per cent of that goes to the federal Treasury, and the balance to the company which runs the tour boats, Shenk said. Tour guide salaries and Alcatraz operating expenses come from the Park Service budget.

"It's the best $2 ticket in town," one tourist exclaimed as he left one of the boats that ferry 140 tourists to the island on each trip.

Twenty-two men and women, dressed in Park Service uniforms, give commentaries on the island's 200-year history as they lead visitors along Alcatraz' winding hillside road and steep paths, through the three-storied cellblock and into the high-walled exercise yard.

They walk through ancient fortifications and see the "Indian Land" graffiti and shells of buildings destroyed by fire during the occupation by representatives of 30 Indian tribes.

Visitors are invited to close themselves inside one of the pitch-black solitary confinement cells, completely lined in solid steel and furnished only with a toilet hole in the floor.

In the same cellblock are two decks of steel-barred isolation cells with a million-dollar view of the Golden Gate. They include the one where Capone was moved at his own request after fellow convicts tried three times to kill him.

Tour guides point out that Robert Stroud wasn't the harmless bird-lover portrayed by Burt Lancaster in the "Birdman of Alcatraz."

"Stroud stabbed a guard to death at Leavenworth," explained guide Kathleen Gallagher. "When he came here, he spent all of his time in solitary confinement — it was part of his sentence for the murder. Actually, he should have been called the Birdman of Leavenworth..."

Much of what the Park Service has learned about Alcatraz comes from former guards and the ex-convicts who return as free men for the tour.

One such visitor was Clarence V. Carnes, once known as the Choctaw Kid, the sole survivor of the six convicts who triggered a bloody riot on "The Rock" on May 2, 1946. Three instigators and two guards died, and the other two convicts were hanged for murder.

Carnes, who arrived at Alcatraz the previous year at the age of 18, was spared because of his age and later was paroled to live with a sister in Kansas City.

"I spent 18 years on Alcatraz and about three of those was in The Hole," Carnes told an interviewer a couple of years ago. "It's pleasant coming back here as a free man."

Alcatraz' history goes back to 1769, when it was first sighted by a Spanish ship and got its name, "Isla de los Alcatrazes" — Island of the Pelicans. The island became a military fort in 1853, housing Civil War prisoners and later Indian prisoners.

In 1909, Alcatraz became a military prison, switching in 1934 to the status of a maximum security lockup for tough federal convicts.

The once-bustling dining hall is bare now, except for a board listing the menu for Easter Sunday, 1962: Fried chicken, sage dressing, snowflake potatoes, giblet gravy, buttered asparagus, rolls, butter, cranberry sauce, pudding, fruit, coffee.

In the main cellblock is the main corridor the convicts called Broadway, the western corridor called Park Avenue with its view of the Golden Gate, and the eastern corridor, dubbed Michigan Avenue.

Tourists stare up at the soaring ceiling above Times Square, the mustering area between the three-tiered cells and mess hall.

They peer through the four portholes, once covered with three-inch-thick bullet-proof glass, where convicts were allowed to see but not touch occasional visitors.

Guides tell them about the humdrum, never-changing routine of prison life: Lights on at 6:30 a.m., 20 minutes for meals, work in the prison laundry or furniture shop, lights out at 9:30 p.m.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy closed down the Alcatraz prison in 1963, calling it inhumane. His decision came on the heels of a highly publicized escape by three convicts, who used spoons to gouge out the decaying concrete in their cells.

Decay was triggered by the use of salt water to mix the concrete when the old cellblock was built early in the century. Even today, fresh water has to be carried by boat to the rocky island.

Prairie privies enrage farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some farmers are outraged at a privy-on-the-prairie proposal that would require them to provide toilets, washing facilities and drinking water within a five-minute walk of all field workers.

Since the proposal was made last April, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration has received about 1,000 letters, mostly from farmers who cite cost, impracticality and difficulty of enforcement as potential problems. Few are from farm workers.

One irate Florida farmer says his workers must control their bowel movements when they are working so as not to reduce productivity.

"Why are you trying to get us to 1984 before the clock does?" wrote Rhee Cummings of Greensboro, N.C. "Toilets, sinks and water fountains in the fields? Are you serious?"

Mrs. Bill Simanton of Malta, Mont., writes that she would need dozens of toilets on her 627 acres. "This would entail financial bankruptcy because a water well would have to be drilled for each facility. And each would have to be heated to insure against freezing during the winter months."

And this unsigned comment from a farmer in Brownfield, Tex.: "What else will you idiots in Washington come up with?"

Faced with this outhouse impasse, OSHA officials concede changes in the standard will be made. "I think it will have to be modified," said W.M. Glasier, an OSHA agricultural safety specialist.

He added, however, that some regulation is necessary because not everyone takes care of workers. Glasier cited a letter from a farmer in Coconut Grove, Fla., who wrote:

"These proposed standards only give a worker another excuse to be goofing off while on the job and will not provide any real benefit to the worker. Bowel movements can be controlled and should be accomplished by the worker before entering the place of work or after."

"At the present time, no one is permitted to use the sanitary facilities here during working hours as this cuts down on their production and amounts to a monumental waste of time. New employees are permitted to use the facilities until they train themselves so bowel movements take place out of working hours."

Under the present OSHA proposal: 1. Drinking water, toilet and hand-washing facilities must be provided for all field workers.

2. One toilet facility shall be provided for every 40 workers or fraction of that number. It shall be located within a five-minute walk of each employee's place in the field.

3. Drinking water must be dispensed "either through the use of a drinking fountain ... or a gravity water tap."

4. For crews of fewer than five employees, field facilities are not necessary if the employer provides rides to facilities nearby.

5. Toilet paper on holders, disposable towels, soap, door latches and guide signs in as many languages as necessary must be provided.

Pageant chief reinstated

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Directors of the Miss Ohio pageant have reinstated producer R. Dennison Keller after allegations that he gave preferential coaching to some contestants, including the winner, were determined unfounded.

"The committee's recommendation was arrived at after hundreds of hours of research...and then deliberation within the last two weeks," said Connie Donnan, board president. "After all the evidence was gathered, there was no firm evidence to support allegations against the producer."

Keller will now help prepare this year's winner for the competition in Atlantic City in September.

"It's not uncommon for pageant producers to assist girls who are competing on a local or national level, providing that the girls ask the producer for assistance," said Mrs. Donnan.

She said the controversy had a beneficial effect of opening communication with local pageant directors who first brought up the allegations.

Cleveland youth drowns on outing

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) — A Cleveland youth on an outing with a group from the Fairfield School for Boys drowned Wednesday in a canoeing accident.

Officials say 17-year-old Andre Philpot drowned after jumping or falling from the canoe into the Mohican River in northeastern Knox county. Philpot's body was recovered after a two-hour search.

Edwin S. Carman, born in Prairie Depot, Wood County, invented power molding machines which made possible the mass production of auto engines.

Soviets take lead in Olympic gold race

MONTREAL (AP) — American forces scored a couple of breakthroughs, but must rely on the return to action of their unbeaten swimmers if they are to have any chance of regaining the lead from the Russians in the XXI Olympic Games.

With the swimmers taking a night off, and Nikolai Andrianov running up three golds, a silver and a bronze in men's gymnastics, Russia swept in front Friday night in the total medal count with 13 golds, 16 silver and 9 bronze.

And, too, the Soviets clinched the gold medal in women's basketball with a 112-77 rout of the United States behind 7-foot Liliyaka Semenova. The medal won't be counted in their total until the close of the women's tournament next week.

The United States, which gained only two of the 33 medals awarded, dropped out of first place and now has a 13-11-6 total. East Germany is a close third at 11-9-8.

Although Kathy McMillan and Peter Kormann picked up U.S. medals where they're usually lacking, it was the Americans' worst day of the Games. The Yanks didn't win anything. They put only two crews in the men's rowing finals and they lost their last hope for a medal in Greco-Roman wrestling when 343-pound Pete Lee was disqualified for being too passive.

The prospects for an American rebound are good, however.

The swimmers are back in action tonight. They haven't lost yet, accounting for nine golds and 18 of the American team's 30 total medals. But they face perhaps their biggest challenge of the Games.

Their dreams of an unaccomplished sweep of all the gold medals could hinge on the 200-meter butterfly match between John Hencken and David Wilkie of Great Britain.

Hencken beat Wilkie in the 100-meter butterfly earlier in these Games and is the world record holder at the 200 meter distance. Wilkie, however, has had better 200 times than the American this year and is ranked the world's chief hope of stopping the U.S. swimming sweep.

In the 200 meter backstroke, world record holder John Naber of Menlo Park, Calif., is heavily favored to win his fourth gold medal.

The United States has strong medal possibilities in all three track and field finals, the shot, the men's 100-meter dash and the women's javelin. Kate Schmidt, Pacific Palisades, Calif., has a pending world record in the javelin. Women's rowing finals also are scheduled. Americans have chances for a couple of medals there, particularly in the eightoared race.

The silver medal picked up by Miss McMillan represented the first American medal in 20 years in the women's long jump. "I'm disappointed and I'm pleased," Kathy said after her leap of 21 feet 10 1/4 inches. Winner Angela Voight of East Germany jumped 22-0 1/2.

The bronze medal won by Kormann was the first by an American in men's gymnastics since 1932.

Kormann's medal came in floor exercise, one of three events won by the muscular, 24-year-old Russian Andrianov. He also won the all-around gymnast title earlier in the Games and finished competition with four gold, a silver and a bronze.

The close of gymnastics also produced the day's biggest row, again over cheating. Gene Wettstone, head trainer of the U.S. men's team, said he was approached by the Bulgarian head coach about a deal prior to the competition. "The first thing he said was 'If you will support our man in the floor exercise, we'll favor your team,'" Wettstone said. The Bulgarian coach Ezjeane Zamskov, was not available for comment.

Both Wettstone and Frank Bare, executive director of the U.S. Gymnastics Federation, charged Russian head judge Boris Chakhlin with trying to get scores changed during the finals of the team competition Tuesday when Japan was outdistancing Russia for the medal.

The American women simply had no chance against the giant Russian basketball team. The Russians ran up a 17-0 lead. Miss Semenova, who scored 32 points, grabbed 19 rebounds and missed only three shots from the floor.

With a 2-2 record, the Americans still have a chance to win the silver. It would take a victory over Czechoslovakia and a loss by Japan to the Russians.

The 20-kilometer walk was the only other final on the opening day of track and field. That title, in an upset, went to Daniel Bautista, the first Mexican ever to win an Olympic gold in track and field. He was timed in 1 hour, 24 minutes, 40.6 seconds.

In other finals, Alexandr Gazov of Russia set a world record of 579 of a possible 600 in the moving game target shooting event, Norbert Klaat of East Germany won the rapid fire pistol and Alexander Pusch of West Germany took the epee fencing gold.

Foster, Alcala lead Reds win

Trade yields Expo dividends

By The Associated Press

When the New York Mets made a trade earlier this week, they had no idea it would pay quick dividends.

But it did—for the Montreal Expos. Del Unser, sent to Montreal along with Wayne Garrett last Tuesday in a swap for Pepe Mangual and Jimmy Dwyer, came right back to haunt his old team Friday night.

"I haven't hit the ball that well all season," said Unser after his solo home run in the 11th inning gave Montreal a 3-2 victory over New York.

Unser's blast came off Skip Lockwood and brought a deafening ovation from the fans of 11,134 at Jarry Park. As he crossed home plate, his new teammates poured out of the dugout to congratulate him.

Reds 3, Braves 1

George Foster broke a tie with a two-run single in the eighth inning and right-hander Santo Alcala hurled a seven-inning at Cincinnati beat Atlanta.

Ken Griffey led off the eighth with a single and moved to third on Joe Morgan's base hit. Foster then singled to short right-center, scoring both Griffey and Morgan.

Phillies 11, Pirates 1

Dave Cash drilled an inside-the-park home run, two singles and batted in two runs as Philadelphia rocked Pittsburgh and extended its National League East lead to 12 games—the longest of the season.

While Cash and his teammates ripped starter Doc Medich, 5-9, and two Pirate relievers for 15 hits, including Mike Schmidt's 25th home run, Philadelphia right-hander Jim Lonborg set down the Pirates for his 12th victory in 17 decisions.

Cubs 4, Cardinals 3

Pinch-hitter Jerry Morales smacked a leadoff home run in the seventh inning, snapping a 3-3 tie and sending Chicago over St. Louis.

Morales' homer, his 11th of the season, came off Cards' starter Harry Rasmussen, 3-8, after Chicago rallied earlier in the game to overcome 1-0 and 3-1 Cardinal leads.

Giants 3, Astros 0

Jim Barr fired a four-hitter and Gary Matthews drove home a pair of runs with a fifth-inning single, leading San Francisco past Houston. Barr, 8-6, had letter-perfect control, allowing no walks as he scored his second shutout of the season. The loser was J.R. Richard, 10-11.

Dodgers 5, Padres 0

Tommy John hurled his first shutout in more than two years and Bill Buckner and Steve Yeager slugged home runs as Los Angeles beat San Diego. John, 6-6, scattered four hits and walked only one in pitching his first shutout since June 4, 1974.

A's 2, Royals 0

Blue's 13 strikeouts tied his own club record since the A's moved to Oakland. They broke a scoreless tie in the seventh inning when Claudell Washington tripled off Marty Pattin and Billy Williams singled him home. A sacrifice and Bill North's single produced the other run.

The triumph was the secondplace A's

13th in their last 18 games and left them eight games behind Kansas City.

Brewers 4, Orioles 3

Bill Sharp's tie-breaking pinch double kept a two-run Milwaukee uprising in the 13th inning. Darrell Porter then scored what proved to be the winning run on Darrell Porter's bases-loaded grounder.

With two out in the bottom of the 13th, Jackson homered for the sixth game in a row, tying the AL record shared by five other players. The major league mark of eight was set by Pittsburgh's Dale Long in 1958.

Indians 9, Tigers 4

Successive home runs by Larvell Blanks and Rico Carty sparked a four-run third inning that broke open a close game. Following the homers, Buddy Bell doubled, Boog Powell singled and Ray Fosse tripled.

Temper flared in the top of the seventh when Detroit's Willie Horton was knocked down by a pitch for the second time. Both benches emptied briefly and two pitches later Horton smashed a two-run homer.

Twins 6, White Sox 2

Run-scoring singles by Lyman Bostock, Tony Oliva and Bob Randall keyed a four-run eighth-inning rally that lifted Minnesota over Chicago. Rod Carew, who started the rally with a single, drove in run with a third-inning grounder and singled and scored in the ninth.

Wild fans steal show after Steeler romp

CHICAGO (AP) — It was perhaps the most bizarre ending in football history, but the Pittsburgh Steelers took it as casually as factory hands let off work early because the machinery had broken down.

After all, the Steelers already had finished their jobs—not to mention the blundering College All-Stars—before torrential rains and chaos in the crowd forced a halt to play at 11:49 p.m., EDT, with 1:22 left in the third quarter Friday night.

Thousands in the crowd of 52,895 immediately swarmed onto Soldier Field's artificial turf, frolicking in the puddles and tearing down both goal posts. The Steelers, who had mounted a 24-0 lead on three Roy Gerela field goals and second-half touchdowns by Franco Harris, cheerfully accepted an early victory.

"I've never seen anything like it. It was like Custer's last stand," chortled Steeler quarterback Terry Bradshaw, who had shown Super Bowl form by completing 11 of 26 passes for 174 yards on a field slicked by pregame showers.

"It was funny—not at all scary," Chuck Noll, the Steelers' usually taciturn head coach, chuckled.

But All-Star Coach Ara Parseghian, directing a team for the first time since he resigned after a brilliant coaching career at Notre Dame in 1974, said he was "absolutely shocked by the fans."

The All-Stars had the ball on the Steeler 34-yard line when play was halted. Pittsburgh's famed Steel Curtain defense had almost totally muzzled an All-Star offense weakened by injury to quarterbacks Mike Kruczek of Boston College and Craig Penrose of San Diego State.

TENNIS ANYONE — Jeddy Graves, chairman of the City Recreation Commission, and Bill Cupp of Buckeye Savings Association look over a tennis racket cover that will be given to each participant in the upcoming Washington C.H. Tennis Tournament. This year's event is co-sponsored by Buckeye Savings and the City Recreation Commission. Buckeye will provide trophies and balls in addition to the racket covers for the July 31-Aug. 8 tourney. Deadline for entry is Tuesday and there will be no entry fee. ## Sherm White sent to Bills

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Four years ago, the Buffalo Bills, armed with the first pick in the National Football League draft and needing a giant-sized defensive end, pondered a choice: To take Notre Dame's Walt Patulski or California's Sherman White.

They decided on Patulski. And the Cincinnati Bengals, picking second, took White.

Friday, the Bengals shipped White to Buffalo for a No. 1 draft choice in 1977, ending a rocky romance.

In an act of defiance, White reported to the Bengals camp two days last week and, after being fined, blasted Cincinnati management for not granting his request to be traded.

He was further angered at the Bengals plans to switch him to left end, behind starter Ken Johnson. The acquisition of veteran Coy Bacon in the off-season precipitated the move. "They didn't tell me anything about playing left end until I got here," said White. "It's different footwork, different arm work. I'd have to start all over again."

With Patulski traded away to St. Louis, the 6-foot-5, 255 pound White is being counted on to shore up a porous Buffalo defense which ranked 24th last year among the NFL's 26 clubs.

Jack Nicklaus leads Canadian Open

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — The Canadian Open is the only major national championship golf tournament Jack Nicklaus hasn't won, but he seems almost blasé about owning the halfway lead.

Perhaps winning 75 tournaments in a fabled career, as Nicklaus has, makes enthusiasm over a 36-hole lead a rather useless frill—even though he lost the event in a sudden-death playoff last year to Tom Weiskopf and was runner-up two other times.

"That's why I'm here—to win," Nicklaus said Friday, after turning in his second straight 67 for a six-under-par 134. It gave him a two-stroke lead over four golfers: U. S. Open champion

Jerry Pate, Jerry Heard, Bob Wynn and J.C. Sneed.

Arnold Palmer, tied for second with Heard with a 66 after Thursday's opening round, shot a 71 to join Bruce Crampton at 137.

First-round leader George Burns, who tied the course record with a 65 Thursday, soared to a 75.

Douglass Dye fired a 38 Friday to edge out Allen Willoughby, Frank Reno, and D. Anderson for medalist honors in Washington Country Club golf league action.

The Mets retained the league lead with 28 points to the second-place Dodgers 24 points. The Mets now have 92 points, the Dodgers 84, the Braves 75 and the Reds 62.

The Wednesday League match scheduled for last week was rained out and it will be played Monday.

The bidding:

Opening lead — king of diamonds.

The bidding by the opponents often points the way to the right line of play. For a good example, take this case where West doubled South's opening heart bid and eventually had to pay off — to the tune of a slam — for his intrusion into the bidding.

West led a diamond and South started to look for a way to avoid losing two club tricks. Had West remained silent during the bidding, declarer

The nine of hearts lead placed West in an untenable position. He could not afford a spade discard, which would give declarer four spade tricks instead of three, so he discarded a club instead.

South thereupon pitched a club from dummy and cashed the A-K of spades before playing the ace and another club. West won with the king but then had to yield the last two tricks to South's queen of spades and jack of clubs.

New Drug for Epileptic Seizures

From the Harvard Medical School comes a report about the use of a new drug for the control of certain types of epileptic seizures.

The drug, clonazepam, in use under the direction of Dr. Thomas R. Browne, has been given approval by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration.

The value of the drug is particularly evident in those patients with epileptic seizures who do not readily respond to the drugs now in common use.

Children as well as adults have reacted well to this anti-convulsant. The side effects are minimal and seem to disappear with regular use, especially when patients are kept under regular observation by their doctor.

Pain associated with kidney stones can be excruciating. For a long time, scientific efforts have been concentrated on the possibility of preventing recurring episodes of kidney stones in patients who have such a tendency.

Dr. Frederic L. Coe, of the Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago, has recently reported on an exciting seven-year study. In more than 200 patients "the rate of kidney stone formation during drug therapy was found to be almost 90 per cent below what it had been before treatment."

The drugs that he employed were effective in reducing the amount of calcium and uric acid in the urine.

Research continues by Dr. Coe and other medical investigators in various hospitals in the United States with these and other drugs.

The National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, Maryland, points out that the past decade has been one of hope for patients with advanced Hodgkin's disease.

Formerly, little hope was held out for such patients.

Dr. Vincent T. De Vita, director of the Institute's program, makes the heartening statement that "Advanced Hodgkin's disease is curable with combination chemotherapy."

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers. Please write to him in care of this newspaper.

U.S. deals with Arafat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Palestinian Liberation Organization's hold on areas of Lebanon has made it necessary for the United States to deal directly with Yasir Arafat's organization to try to secure the evacuation of Americans from Beirut, U.S. officials say.

But State Department officials emphasize there is no change in U.S. policy toward the PLO — that the question of actual recognition cannot be met so long as the group refuses to accept the existence of Israel.

Even so, the first U.S. acknowledgement of contact with the PLO could serve to enhance the prestige of the Arafat organization. Although it has had to fall back before Syria's military thrust into Lebanon, the PLO has been gaining status over the long run, with an observer role at the United Nations and a voice in Arab councils.

Since the PLO controls part of the overland route as well as the coastal region where a seafight might be concluded, the United States has concluded that it must deal directly with Palestinian elements. As Frederick Z. Brown, a State Department spokesman, put it Friday, "We're having daily exchanges with all the parties concerned."

Crash kills 4 teen-agers

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Four Warren teenagers were killed and two others were injured in a two-car crash at a city intersection early this morning, police said.

The dead, all occupants of one car, were identified by authorities as Duane Brantly, 19, the driver; Ronald Freeman, 19; his brother Robert, 17; and Kimberley Reed, 16, all of Warren.

The only other occupant of the car, identified as Charmaine Jones, 18, of Warren, was in fair condition at a Warren hospital.

Also injured was the driver of the second car, Rex Putnam, 18, also of Warren, who was traveling alone when his car collided with the other vehicle at the intersection, police said.

Putnam was hospitalized in fair condition, police said. Investigation of the accident was continuing.

Duke to resign for campaign work

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City's official greeter, Angier Biddle Duke, says he will resign to assume a greater role in the Democratic presidential and senatorial campaigns.

Duke, 60, was U.S. chief of protocol in the Kennedy and Johnson administrations and, during a 25-year diplomatic career, served as ambassador to Spain, Denmark and El Salvador.

In 1974, Mayor Abraham D. Beame named Duke, a millionaire, as the city's $1-a-year commissioner of public events, a ceremonial job arranging functions and greeting royalty, heads of state and other important foreign visitors. He was appointed chairman of the New York City Democratic Committee last April. Duke announced his resignation Friday.

We all know it's easier to have fun than to pay for it.

But here's a way the paying can be as painless as the playing.

Just buy United States Savings Bonds through your Payroll Savings Plan at work.

That way every payday something is taken out for playday.

And before you know it, you'll be relaxing on that dream boat. Or retiring to that dream villa. Or vacationing on that dream island.

So start saving now. And the fun can begin sooner than you think.

Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4½% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

200 years at the same location.
